Minutes of the February 14th meeting were approved.

UNH books on food sufficiency and farm sustainability in New England: Members discussed a mailing from John Carroll, Professor of Environmental Conservation at UNH, about his three books on New England food, farm, and conservation issues. Bruce said he had talked with John about his books at a recent conference, and he recommended them to the TCC.

John Kieley moved, and Lincoln Geiger seconded, that Bruce spend up to $70 of TCC funds for the purchase of John Carroll's three books for the Temple Library. The vote was unanimous in favor.

Consideration of John Kieley and Bruce Kantner for reappointment to the TCC for three-year terms: Honey Hastings moved, and Lincoln Geiger seconded, that the TCC recommend to the Select Board the reappointment of John Kieley and Bruce Kantner for three-year terms on the Temple Conservation Commission. The vote was unanimous in favor.

ConVal workday: Members agreed that there is too much snow on the ground to do the chain sawing preparation work for the scheduled ConVal Senior Class workday on April 2nd. Bruce will email Lizzie at ConValto cancel on 4/2 and ask if another date, one or two weeks later, would be possible.

Quabbin to Cardigan request for projects: John found out that the funding possibilities only cover transaction costs for easements or land purchases. This would not be of much help at this time.

Meeting ended at 6:27 pm. The next meeting will be on April 11th.
